

! Preliminary ! SSS-Day 2025 – Program

Friday, 7 November – Naturmuseum Winterthur

- 09.30 Coffee and Croissants, Registration
- 10.15 Alice Cibois, Mathieu Perret, Seraina Klopstein (SSS board)
General assembly of the Swiss Systematics Society
- 10.45 Invited lecture – Juan-Carlos Zamora (JCB Geneva)
A scientific career as a (fungal) taxonomist: is that possible?
- 11.35 Hannes Baur (Naturhistorisches Museum Bern)
Let's get rid of the old stuff!
- 12.00 Sabrina Schnurreberger (Naturmuseum Winterthur)
Outreach: Experiences from the «Naturfundbüro»
-
- 12.15 Lunch break
-
- 13.45 Invited Lecture – Marianne Espeland (Museum König, Bonn)
Museomics and machine learning illuminate the evolutionary history and diversification of burnet moths and allies (Zygaenidae, Lepidoptera)
- 14.35 Cody Cardenas (Muséum d'Histoire Naturelle, Geneva)
Museomics of Calosoma caterpillar hunter beetles (Coleoptera, Carabidae) sheds light on an obsolete classification
- 14.50 Emilie Favre (University of Neuchâtel)
Diversity and endemism of springtail communities from nunataks in the Valais Alps
- 15.15 Juan-Carlos Copete (Uni Zurich)
Attalea taam* — a new palm species well known by the Cacia Indigenous people
-
- 15.30 Coffee break
-
- 16.00 Master prize: Matilde Nari (CJB Geneva)
Exploration of peristome architecture in the Pottiaceae (Bryophyta) with pattern characterization: what is a 'pottioid peristome'?
- 16.20 Benjamin Ory (Uni Neuchâtel)
Description of a new Centropyxis species (testate amoeba) from tropical Sphagnum in Peru: revealing the hidden taxonomic potential of moss herbaria
- 16:35 David Garoffolo Betschmann (Naturéum Lausanne)
Diving deeper: building a multi-locus barcoding database for Plecoptera biodiversity monitoring in Switzerland
- 17.00 Goodbye's