

1st Swiss Ocean Day - The conference for the Swiss ocean community

20 June 2024, University of Bern

SCOPE

The Swiss Ocean Day is the networking event for the Swiss ocean community. For the first edition, we cordially invite you to a day of presentations, discussions and updates on Swiss-led ocean science and other ocean-related activities. Following an engaging keynote address, Swiss ocean scientists and actors will share their research and initiatives. Ample time will be allocated for networking and exchange.

CALL FOR CONTRIBUTIONS

All scientific group leaders or representatives are invited to present their groups and research activities as flash talks during the open forum (5 minutes, 1-2 slides). Additionally, NGOs and others are encouraged to share their aims, visions and projects. All students and postdocs are invited to present their projects in a poster format during lunch break and apéro.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Prof. Laurent Bopp (Ecole Normale Supérieure, Paris)

ORGANISATIONAL MATTERS

The conference language is English. The conference fee (BA/MA/PhD 50 CHF, students: 20 CHF) will cover coffee breaks, lunch and apéro.

Registration deadline: 28 March 2024

Program and registration: <https://www.oeschger.unibe.ch/oceanday24>

ORGANIZING COMMITTEE

Thomas Frölicher (University of Bern), Núria Casacuberta (ETH Zürich), Nathalie Dubois (EAWAG), Dieter Baumgartner (ETH Zürich)

PARTNERS AND SPONSORS

Swiss Commission of Oceanography and Limnology / Oeschger Centre for Climate Change Research